Thank You

Thank you for giving community cats like Oreo another chance at life!

Oreo is a community cat who was found with severe wounds on his face, presumably from a fight with another cat or wild animal. Thankfully, a neighborhood group that had organized to care for the community's outdoor cats spotted him and alerted us he was in need of urgent medical attention. Oreo was then safely trapped by OHS as part of our Trap Neuter and Return program. By doing this we can save lives while also controlling the cat population. Oreo is now in foster care and recovering from his injuries in a loving home.

Outdoor cats are at high risk for injuries and disease. If you see an injured cat, please contact our info line or any local rescue for help and instructions on what to do next. There is tremendous need right now, so if one rescue can't help, please keep calling. We are always happy to provide suggestions in the Tri-Cities area.

We are so grateful to our community of animal lovers who step up to help animals in need!

With gratitude,
Jen Gresham
