Join us at Niles Antique Faire

It's happening! Niles Antique Faire is BACK. After a challenging year (and then some!) we're delighted to announce that we'll be participating with a booth at the Faire on Sunday, August 29th.

We're looking for volunteers to help staff our booth. If you're an early bird, you'll love set-up. We have to be ready for the bargain hunters by 6.00am. If you're more of an afternoon type, fantastic, the Faire runs until 4.00pm.

Sign up here to volunteer with us. No experience necessary.

Contact us here with any questions.

We'll be selling crafted items as well as promoting our programs.
Calling all crafters!

We're looking for donated crafts to sell at the Niles Antique Faire on August 29th. Animal themed would be ideal but we're very open minded!

So what are YOU good at making? Sewing? Knitting? Painting? Please check with friends to see if anyone would like to donate something to sell.

What's it like to adopt a kitten from OHS?
I wanted to write this glowing review of our experience in adopting two kittens through the Ohlone Humane Society (New Kitten Adoption branch), so that others who are considering adoption can read about our amazing experience and adopt a new animal member(s) into their families!

My husband and I were searching for two kittens to adopt, and were referred to Ohlone Humane Society through a friend who had a great experience. After we submitted our application, we were promptly greeted by Cindy Potter and since that first outreach we have felt completely supported and comfortable to ask a million questions! Our foster parent was also incredible-she consistently sent us updates of the two kitties we wanted to adopt, and was available throughout the weeks to answer our questions about their personalities, their care once we had them in our home, and overall cat behavior questions (we have an older cat that we were nervous about introducing the kitties to). Before beginning this adoption process, we didn’t realize the level of commitment (time, funds, follow up) it takes to foster cats and I want to give several kudos to Cindy Potter and our foster parent Kim, for the high level of organization and care that they give to our communities and the animals that live within them.

We highly recommend working with this organization to find your next family pet!

Sincerely,

Clinton and Audrey F.

Getting rid of shelving?

Our Pet Meals on Wheels program needs more storage capacity for the pet food supplies - do you have any sturdy shelving or a workbench you'd like to donate? We've got big plans to expand our capacity...

Good News from the Wildlife Rehab Center
This nestling Great Horned Owl was found on the ground at the Redwood Canyon Golf Course in Castro Valley in May. People who found him were unable to re-nest him so they brought him to us.

About a month later he was doing well, growing, and had a healthy fear of humans.
We are happy to report that in mid July we released the owl back to where he came from. Thank you to golf course management and East Bay Parks folks for assisting us in this release! Follow us on Facebook or Instagram for more stories and photos like these.
